MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: Excellence Speech

25X1 1. You will see that I already revised the speech somewhat along the lines of your suggestions. I have asked [] to collect additional DA inputs. You will see additional DL and DA inputs. If you have any others I would like to see the essence.

2. I like your idea of an insert emphasizing that we have great success in applying technology to develop new collection methods. Now we are going into an era where all our employees will be applying technology more broadly to their work. I think you will find examples in my present draft which might be grouped together under this heading. In this connection you might use the first paragraph on the second page of your 12 June memo. Then follow up with the elements of the top paragraph on the second page of your comments on the draft speech to reflect our recognition of the need to otherwise prepare our people to handle changing technologies. Somewhere in there elements of the last paragraph of your comments on the growing value of photography, signals and other types of intelligence reports could be woven in.

3. Why don't you try to weave together a paragraph or two reflecting all this which I can adapt and stick in in the proper place.

William J. Casey
